

Stakeholder Engagement

Primary stakeholders are customers submitting complaints, support agents who triage them, and service owners responsible for workflow quality. The project was developed for the TRI AI Cohort 10 competition using its supplied dataset.

No direct interviews, surveys, or external stakeholder-validation sessions were completed during this competition project. This is a limitation, not evidence of approval from users or support teams.

Before deployment, engagement should include support-agent error review, service-owner routing and escalation rules, and representative-user checks for language variation and sensitive complaints. Feedback should inform authorised data collection, categories, and the human-review workflow.
